

OSP Social Media Resource Notes for Teachers and Facilitators and Ontario Curriculum Connections

Welcome to the Ontario Skills Passport (OSP) Social Media Resource!

This resource helps learners use social media safely and effectively to showcase their Essential Skills and work habits and get noticed when they are looking for a great:

- post-secondary program
- apprenticeship
- volunteer position
- job or internship

Learners who are familiar with Essential Skills and work habits and tools and resources on the OSP website will be in a great position to successfully complete the activities in this resource. The OSP Overview for Learners is a good place to start and then teachers can help select videos and other introductory activities based on the needs of the learners.

The OSP Social Media Resource includes an Introduction and four modules. A brief description of the content is shown below.

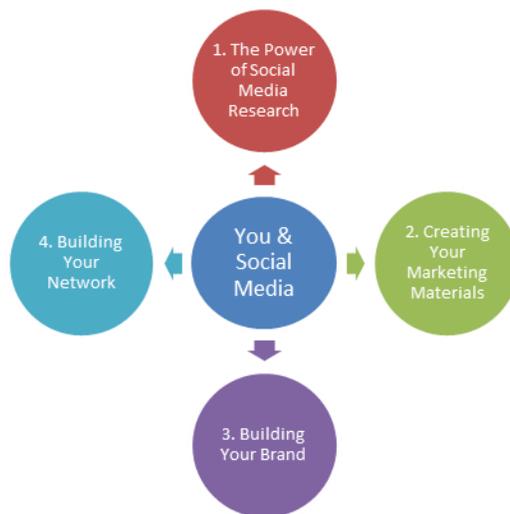

Introduction to the OSP Social Media Resource

Teachers and facilitators may choose to assign all or some of the introductory activities included with this resource:

- Introductory video
- Overview of how to use this resource
- Introduction to some popular social media websites
- Social Media Quiz
- Cyber Safety Tips Sheet
- Internet Safety Quiz
- Social Media Reflection

OSP Social Media Resource Modules

The four modules are listed below.

Module 1 Learners:

- Use social media to conduct research about their future career.

Module 2 Learners:

- Create online content that genuinely reflects who they are while showcasing their transferable Essential Skills and work habits. This can help them stand out in the crowd of people who may be applying for the same job, academic program or volunteer opportunity.
- Collect great social proof of their skills and accomplishments using OSP tools and resources such as OSP Work Plans and OSP Community Involvement Worksheets.

Module 3 Learners:

- Critically review and build their online reputation or “personal brand”.
- Improve their brand so that they stand out from other people who are interested in pursuing the same career and learning or training opportunities.

Module 4 Learners:

- Find out how to create, build and use their social media network as an important tool for realizing their personal and academic goals.

Learners can do the modules in order from 1 to 4 or teachers/facilitators can assign only certain modules, depending on the needs of the learners. For example, some learners may not yet be at the stage where they are ready to complete the “building your brand” activities in module 3.

Benefits of Identifying Essential Skills Tasks in Classroom Activities

Essential Skills tasks must, by definition, be something an individual would do outside the classroom. Every OSP activity identifies the Essential Skills tasks, Essential Skills and skill levels as well as the work habits that learners demonstrate when completing these activities. This helps increase relevancy and engagement for learners - questions like “Why am I learning this?” and “When will I ever use this?” become much easier to answer when activities have an Essential Skills focus.

Learners who can identify the Essential Skills they have demonstrated in classroom activities can go to the OSP to see how workers use their Essential Skills in occupations and how we use our Essential Skills and work habits in work, learning and life. This can help learners make more personal connections with classroom activities when they see how they can transfer these same Essential Skills and work habits to everyday life and the next place they go – whether it’s further education, training or the workplace.

Identify the Essential Skills tasks in your favourite classroom activities!

Use A Guide to Linking Essential Skills and the Curriculum to learn the two-step method of connecting instruction to Essential Skills.

The following section lists curriculum connections for each of the courses listed above and the Essential Skills tasks, Essential Skills and skill levels as well as work habits that learners demonstrate when completing activities in the OSP Social Media Resource.
